

Board Road Move Surprises State

Equal priority was given by the Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors to six major road construction projects planned by the state and county.

In a surprise move, the supervisors listed the proposed Franklin Canyon Freeway first on the list of projects to be considered by the state highway commission for funds this year.

B. W. BOOKER, expressed surprise at the decision of the supervisors in their decision to weigh equal importance on the Franklin Canyon Route with the Diablo Freeway project in the central portion of the county.

Booker pointed out to the supervisors that the Diablo Freeway, running from Orinda to Concord and eventually to Martinez is nearing completion and all but three legs are already completed.

"The Franklin Canyon project isn't even off the drawing boards," he commented.

Martinez Chamber of Commerce Manager Claude Greerty led the fight for the equal stand for Franklin Canyon asserting that the completion of Highway 4 as a freeway through the canyon is a "vital matter."

REGARDLESS of the decision of the supervisors on the projects the state commission will have the final say in where the money goes.

Other projects include Antioch to Antioch Bridge, 4.6 miles; Martinez-Benicia Bridge; completion of freeway from Pleasant Hill to Martinez-Benicia Bridge and completion of Highway 40 Freeway from Albany to Jefferson Avenue, Richmond.

Victor Sauer, public works director, presented Booker and the State Chamber of Commerce Highway Committee with the six recommendations.

GREERTY EMPHASIZED the importance of the Franklin Canyon link by pointing out the proposed Veterans' Hospital to be built in Martinez and the construction of the $25 million Martinez-Benicia Bridge.

Booker informed the group that Contra Costa County needs roads faster than they can be built. Contra Costa is receiving more money for roads than any other Bay Area County, he noted.

"Two years ago, Contra Costa needed $117 million in roads, the state has already spent of $64 million in the county," said Booker. Booker again emphasized although Franklin Canyon is vital, urgency calls for construction on the unfinished portions of the Diablo Freeway, running through the towns of Orinda, Lafayette, Walnut Creek, Pleasant Hill and Concord.

"THIS ROUTE, Highway 24, is in an advance state of preparedness for completion while the highway 4 plans have not yet been begun," said Booker.

"The county (Contra Costa) will need at least $134 million more in road monies if its needs are to be realized," he continued.

In addition to the six projects which need the immediate attention of the state, Sauer presented six more roads for consideration for purchase of right of way and preliminary study and three other roads which were classified as "long term no priority" programs.

MEANWHILE THE Diablo Highway Federation was expected to swing into action in requesting the State Highway Commission to give prime consideration to the Diablo Freeway project.

Requested by the group already has been a third west bound lane to eliminate the early morning congestion at the junction of Mt. Diablo Boulevard and the Lafayette Bypass near Upper Happy Valley Road.

Letters have been written to the State by the Highway Federation asking for the completion of the "missing link" in the freeway between the Alameda County line and Walnut Creek.

The missing link, seems to be the answer to the problem in the central county, said C. L. Sinclair, Booker's assistant in San Francisco.

SINCLAIR STATED that, off hand the cost of the proposed Charles Hill Road Interchange and the road completion over the two mile stretch would be "about $4 million."

Whether this project would be high on the list of the State Highway Commission was not known by Sinclair, but he said the plans and right of way monies were ready and waiting.

The construction money is still in the hands of the state.

The booming population of the central county area and all the areas of Contra Costa was described by Booker as fantastic and that needs of the county would far surpass any possible construction that the state could do over the next few years.

The Commuters Association balked at the idea of the Alameda-Contra Costa Transit District to start bus service over the "already over used highways leading to the metropolitan centers in Oakland and San Francisco."

"THE REAL need lies in moderate highway construction with an emphasis on some form of rapid transit that will not use the highways. The highways are jammed with truck and auto traffic, we don't need buses on them to add to the mess," said a spokesman of the group.

The supervisors concluded after the discussion that the total 8½ mile span of the Franklin Canyon Freeway project should be listed first in the needs of the county but that all projects were considered on an equal basis.

The overall Franklin Canyon route will span the Hercules to north of Concord area. Included in the proposed plan of Sauer is the widening of the Glen-Fraser area near

Ten Cents

Orinda 'City' Sales to Total $6 Millions

Possible Tax Slash Of Two Cents Seen By Administrator

Although the highest budget in the history of Contra Costa is now in the mill, taxpayers may receive a two cent cut in taxes, according to Desmond Teeter, county administrator.

The proposed 1957-58 budget is approximately $4.5 million higher than last year but the cut is expected because of the all time high assessed valuation of the county, he said.

Last year's rate was $2.20 per hundred—this year, at least the proposed figure, is $2.18 cents per hundred of assessed valuation. This amount will pertain to the entire county with the exception of Richmond which has its own library service.

The tax rate for Richmond is proposed at $2.08 per hundred in comparison with last year's $2.11.

The official adoption will be made by the supervisors when they complete their inspection of the proposed budget.

"There's still plenty of room for changes," said one high county official.

The actual tax rate will be set by the County Auditor, Howard McNamer as soon as the supervisors approve it.

Teeter explained that the budget has already been trimmed by $616,000 from the figure which had been submitted by the various department heads.

The following is a list of various department requests proposed in the new budget:

PAYROLLS — Based on the present county staff, and on the 4.7 per cent pay raise which went into effect July 1, the total for the year of $1,241,272. Should the supervisors approve additional raises, the sum will go up, as it will also when the county adds the expected 60-65 new workers expected to be needed during the year.

CAPITAL OUTLAY — Still a huge item. On the docket are $527,000 for the county airport, including an $800,000 control tower, hangars, and the proposed terminal and administration building.

The federal government will reimburse the county for about half of this. Other buildings will include a $148,000 wing providing 48 more beds at the county hospital; $60,000 for laundry expansion at the hospital; $100,000 for a necessary fire escape on the Court House; $40,000 for a new county pound; $45,000 for a new warehouse in Richmond declared vital by the recently retired Grand Jury; $28,300 for remodeling the Richmond Memorial Building, and possibly $90,000 to obtain a full block in Martinez and equip it for use as parking lot, motor pool and garage.

The tentative budget contains $100,000 for purchase and start of construction on a boy's camp; $99,875 for further purchase of Briones Park land and other sites; $8,000 for replacement of county vehicles; $13,000 each for new office equipment and hospital or laboratory items; $16,000 for a new Bookmobile; $15,000 for a new prisoners' bus for the sheriff.

OFFSETTING PART of the capital outlay program are tentative county plans to dispose of some 40 acres of unneeded land at Buchanan Field for an expected $200,000.

Biggest single item in the outlay column is a total of $1,750,000 for highways and related projects, included preparation of a master thoroughfare plan which will be subsidized in part by federal funds.

SOCIAL WELFARE — Nearly matching county payroll in size, the total estimated at $1,041,961 — up $3 million from last year. Of this, taxpayers will have to put up some $240,000 more, but the rest of the increase is slated to come from state and federal sources.

Both County Administrator Teeter and County Medical Director George Degnan have questioned the necessity of adding $465,000 for the new welfare recipients' medical care program recently enacted into law. They have asked District Attorney Francis W. Collins for a ruling as to whether the new program is not "permissive" rather than mandatory.

Social Welfare Director William G. Golden has estimated that the medical program would necessitate 26 additional staff members to administer; Dr. Degnan contends that the county hospital is already supplying satisfactory care to welfare recipients.

THERE'S NOTHING LIKE getting out on these warm summer days Mrs. Jerry Hays and her son, Mark, seem to be thinking as they rest at the Orinda Park Pool. In the background, youngsters and oldsters alike take advantage of the pool's facilities to cool off and relax.

Governor Signs 2 Major Transit Bills To Aid Bay Area

Signed into law Wednesday by the Governor were two major transit bills designed by their authors to relieve traffic congestion in the Bay Area.

The two parcels of legislation authorize reconstruction of the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge, to increase its vehicular capacity by 35 percent, at the cost of $35 million and sets July 1, 1958 as the deadline for financing the proposed Army Street, San Francisco—Bay Farm Island southern crossing.

Included in the measure is that bridge tolls on the San Francisco—Oakland Bay Bridge are not to be increased to pay for the Southern Crossing project.

The bills both carry urgency clauses, making them effective immediately.

Involved in the bridge reconstruction job is removal of train tracks on the lower deck of the bridge.

Frank B. Durkee, state director of public works, has pledged that the tracks will not be removed until a definite decision to abandon the requirement is reached.

SOUTHERN CROSSING financing is complicated by a series of other measures, some reducing, others increasing its cost, and further study will probably be necessary to determine their effect.

Provisional authority to replace all existing transbay train lines with bus service has been granted to Key System by the State Public Utilities Commission.

The District has not decided whether it desires to continue train operation, involving a $4, for service now conducted at a loss of $500,000 a year.

Assuming an eventual decision to abandon trains, the bridge reconstruction job contemplates paying the lower deck for vehicular use and strengthening of the upper deck to provide five lanes for one-way travel on each level. Bridge tolls will pay for the project, without need for a bond issue or property tax.

The project was proposed last March by Norman C. Rabb, chief of the Division of Bay Toll Crossings, was recommended by the Department of Public Works, and now has legislative authorization.

THE SOUTHERN CROSSING section of the law sets a time limit, less than a year away, for the four-year effort to construct a low-level crossing from Bay Farm Island, Alameda, to Army Street, San Francisco.

The law provides that financing can not be undertaken if a boost in the present 25-cent toll is necessary.

The Southern Crossing act requires that tolls on the Bay Bridge will not be used to help pay for the Southern Crossing.

Doyle Declares Candidacy For GOP State Chairman

By LOU CANNON

Assemblyman Donald Doyle this week announced that he was definitely a candidate for the Republican state chairmanship in 1958 but again declined to confirm or deny reports that he will not seek reelection to the Assembly next year.

The Sun reported in May that Doyle would seek the GOP state chairmanship and, also, that he would evidently not be a candidate for reelection to his present job.

THE LAFAYETTE Republican is the present state vice-chairman of his party. Politically, he is regarded as close to the administration of Governor Goodwin Knight.

Doyle said that the chairmanship job should not be an issue in the fight "between the state's two Republican factions, providing any fight ensues."

But he added that the state chairman would be obligated "to support the Republican incumbent for office, leaving no doubt as to where he would stand, should a Knight-Knowland gubernatorial battle occur."

THE ASSEMBLYMAN said that he could neither confirm nor deny reports that he would not seek election to the Assembly again. "I've reached no decision on my future political activities," he said. "I think it's too early to make any statement, since I have some 18 months to serve."

"My only thought at the moment is to continue to work in behalf of the people of my district," Doyle stated.

Doyle also denied a report in a recent California Teachers Association newsletter that he would resign from his chairmanship of the Assembly Education Committee.

"I HAVE GIVEN some thought to stepping down," he said, "so that I could devote more time to my business and other political activities, but no definite arrangement of any sort has been made."

"I do not anticipate resigning in the near future but I do expect to turn some of the responsibilities of the chairmanship over to Dorothy Donohue."

Donohue, from Bakersfield, is the ranking Democratic member of the committee.

THE 10TH DISTRICT assemblyman, who has served in the state legislature for six years, pointed with pride to the recently concluded legislative session as the "busiest and most productive in years."

The legislative record bears him out. There were a total of 4515 measures considered, an all-time record.

The California budget, also a record, is the largest of any state in the nation among states which set the budget on a one-year basis.

BUT THE PEOPLE should realize, Doyle said, "that more than half of this comes back to them."

"More than a billion dollars was appropriated in the way of subventions to local government," he stated.

What about the quality of the legislative achievements?

DONALD D. DOYLE ASSEMBLYMAN

Very high, according to Doyle. The assemblyman cited mental health and welfare legislation, increased compensation and benefits for the state's working men, increased teachers retirement pay, school aid and numerous other bills as indicative of the legislative output.

WITH ASSEMBLYMAN S. C. Masterson, Richmond Democrat, Doyle also co-authored all county measures including the new superior court bill, the municipal court bill and (with Senator George Miller Jr.) the bill allowing the Concord Hospital addition.

He was the author, with Senator Alan Short of Stockton, of the Short-Doyle Act providing $850,000 for mental health facilities within existing medical institutions.

"This will eventually curtail the exorbitant cost of our mental institutions," Doyle said.

THE ASSEMBLYMAN PAID tribute to the efforts of Luther Lincoln, (R.-Oakland), the assembly speaker and to Senator Miller who Doyle said he regards as "the quarterback of the Senate."

"We will have to say," Doyle stated, "that the nature of legislative achievements were bipartisan and that we had Democrats and Republicans co-authoring the major bills."

Speaking of the Assembly Doyle said the leaders of both parties approached matters in a spirit of compromise.

AMONG THE examples cited by the assemblyman was the avoidance of the last minute log jam anticipated by many as a result of the water problem controversy.

In response to a question concerning possible "conservative" opposition to Doyle because of his position on such measures as mental health, labor legislation, fair employment practices and similar matters, Doyle admitted that "some conservatives" might oppose him for state chairman.

"But I believe they are critical because they fail to understand the process under which we run a state government," he said.

Chamber Hears Expected Figure for Fiscal '58-'59

Members of the Orinda Chamber of Commerce were informed that the State Board of Equalization estimate for Orinda taxable sales in fiscal year 1958-59 will be $6,120,000.

The information was directed to the chamber from the office of R. R. Gregory, district tax administrator of the State Board of Equalization in a letter read to the chamber by Clarence Betz.

THE SALES were computed from the proposed area of Orinda incorporation. The forecast was made at the request of the Chamber of Commerce. Maynard Buehler, president, noted that this figure verifies past estimates.

The figure is based on the actual table of sales during the year 1956-1957 and includes an estimated growth of Orinda of 10 per cent. The 10 per cent is expected considering past growth of the community.

V. L. Cline, county design director, department of public works, will speak at the next meeting of the chamber August 6 at the Casa Orinda. This fact was confirmed in a letter read at the noon meeting of the Chamber Tuesday.

Cline will speak on future access road behind the Orinda Village. Vic Sauer, public works director, will also attend the meeting.

HORACE BREED, announced that the chamber and the Orinda Association will be asked to attend a meeting to help draft tentative boundary lines for census tracts in Orinda for the 1960 census.

Guest speaker of the day was John McFarland, general manager of the East Bay Municipal Utility District.

McFarland said that the proposed Briones Valley reservoir is the single most important water project for the future of Contra Costa County. "There is a problem of storing water in years of plenty for the years of draught," he said.

McFarland pointed out that the policy of EBMUD is to have 90 days supply of water on hand should aqueducts from Pardee Dam be disrupted for any reason.

"WE MUST FACE any emergency, our plans call for several more impounding reservoirs including Pinole Reservoir and the Briones Valley Reservoir as well as maintaining the one billion gallon Lafayette reservoir, he stated.

Transit District Directors Vote to Buy Key System

Directors of the Contra Costa-Alameda Transit District unanimously voted to make formal their intentions to file condemnation proceedings against Key System last Thursday night.

The seven directors made public the notice of intentions that they would bring the condemnation to the California State Public Utilities Commission. At the same time the directors ordered a financial and economic feasibility survey of the system to enable them to decide what portions of the Key System should be taken over by the district.

The resolution calls for the condemnation of all or portions of Key.

ALTHOUGH THE district was quoted as stating it would oppose removal of the Key System tracks on the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge, Claire MacLeod, chairman and Robert Nesbit, attorney for the district, claimed that the directors had no intention of fighting the proposal to remove the rails from the bridge.

Meanwhile the State Attorney General's office was expected to rule on whether the Contra Costa Transit Council, a taxpayers group of Contra Costa citizens who oppose the inclusion of Contra Costa in the two county district, may challenge the legal status of the district in the courts.

The council contends that Richmond, San Pablo and unincorporated areas of the county were improperly included in the district at the time of the election last November.

THE DISTRICT has announced that it will ask for $5 million to $7 million bond proposal on next June's primary ballot to buy Key System "lock, stock and barrel."

Nisbet and Robert K. Barber, vice chairman of the district, informed a Contra Costa group recently that the price asked by Key was "way out of line and exorbitant."

Some years ago Key offered to sell itself for $10 million. Just what price is being asked by the system at present was not included in the statement of MacLeod, Baker or Nesbit.

High on the list of plans by the district, since it received a $25,000 loan from the Oakland Bank of Commerce, which will be repaid when the district is put on the tax rolls, is a commute system to Orinda, Lafayette, Walnut Creek, Pleasant Hill and Concord, said Barber.

WELL AT LEAST two years ahead of the Five-County Rapid Transit System by the time that development gets its feet off the ground," claimed Barber.

Observers of the Transit District claim that Contra Costa taxpayers will be paying the bill for street repairs in downtown Oakland should a major bond issue be passed by the district.

John A. Morin, city engineer of Oakland informed the Oakland City Council, that under present street repairs and rehabilitation "if the transit district buys out Key it will be the heir apparent to these debts," he said.

The Public Utilities Commission in a study completed recently pointed out that streets which are now used by Key System trains are in poor condition. "If the trains are retained, street reconstruction will cost $4,511,600," states the report.

IF THE TRAIN service is abandoned, street rails can be removed and can be repaved for $654,544," claims the report.

A meeting was planned by MacLeod and the directors with W. Byron Rumford, author of one of the bridge reconstruction bills and Senator Arthur Breed, who also has a bridge reconstruction bill signed by the governor this week (See other story).

The bills call for the removal of rails, paving of the lower deck track area and reamending the structure to increase its vehicular capacity by 35 percent.

The directors have set up a time table to get the bond proposal before the voters by June, but should the Key System fight the condemnation proceeding, it may well not appear on the ballot before November, they said.

THE DISTRICT will, however, continue its negotiations to enter into a five year lease agreement with Key with the understanding that the district would be at the end of the five year period.

The PUC has given conditional approval to Key System to abandon train service and use buses on its trans-bay lines.

The Key System obtained the approval after showing it was losing $480,000 a year on train operations but could save $770,000 annually by bus conversion.

PUC engineers stated that the buses could give faster and more efficient service than is now provided by trains.

Breed Outlines Parking Needs

Chairman Horace Breed of the Orinda Vehicle Parking District has told the Board of Supervisors that the major problem is to acquire an adequate parking lot for commuters.

Breed told the board that "fantastic results" were noticeable in the Orinda business area because of parking ordinances providing on-street parking control.

The chairman's three-year term as a district commissioner expires at the end of July.

Breed told the board that the problem of obtaining a central parking lot has been discussed with the East Bay Municipal Utility District, owner of a site now sought by Orindans, and with the public works department.

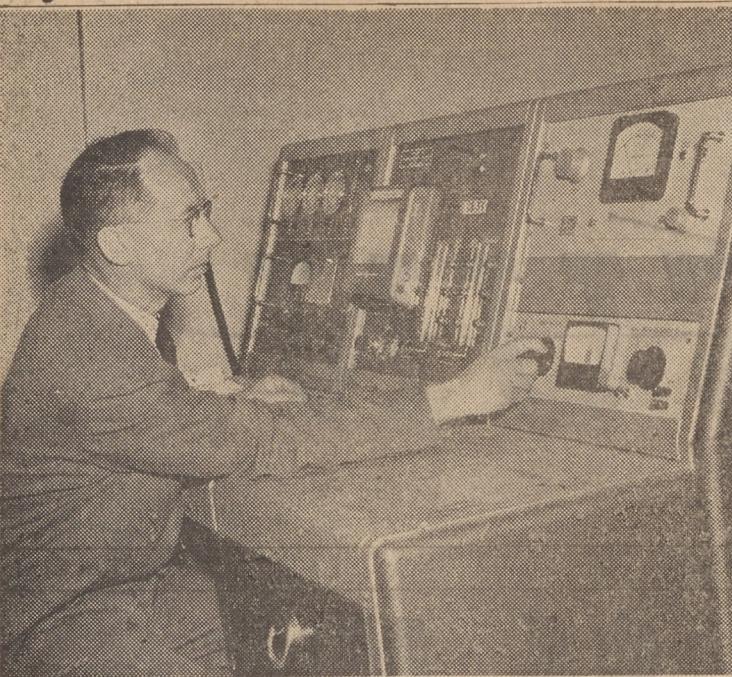

Cashed a Check At T&D Liquors? Call Them Now!

Anyone who cashed a check last Friday or anytime Saturday at T&D Liquors in Black's Market, Orinda, is asked to contact the store management as soon as possible.

The request is made by Leighton DeMaeyer and Jim Tosteson, owners of the T&D.

The store was robbed sometime over the weekend and a good amount of the $2000 taken was in checks, according to the Contra Costa Sheriff's office.

Civic Affairs Unit Gives Association Confidence Vote

A vote of confidence was given by the Orinda Civic Affairs Committee to the Directors of the Orinda Association at a meeting of the group Monday night on the directors decision to appeal the PIE decision in the courts.

The final tally was 9-5 after a debate on whether a vote could or could not be taken since the member organizations were not notified of the proposal to ask for a vote of confidence.

Mrs. Ramona Dubois argued that if the Civic Affairs Committee were to continue to be the sounding board of Orinda, it must notify all its member organizations of its proposed actions.

In the shortest meeting in recent years, and least attended, civic affairs representatives also heard a report by association director Marvin Baker that the Board has reached an agreement with Orinda Community Church officials on the sale price of $30,000 for six acres of community center property. The church wishes to expand.

Man Who Robbed Crippled Sister Is Held By FBI

A warrant for grand theft and car theft has been issued for James Leonard Saynes, 21, accused of robbing his crippled sister and brother-in-law of some $265 and their Ford sedan.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation is currently holding Saynes in Arizona where he was apprehended for transporting a stolen vehicle across a state line.

THE VICTIMS of the theft are Frederick D. Maddox and his wife Katherine of 2648 Mayfair Avenue, Concord. He is confined to a wheel chair and she recently underwent a hip operation and is on crutches.

Saynes came to the Maddox home two weeks ago from Kentucky, supposedly to help care for the Maddox's three children.

According to Concord police, the Maddoxes stated that they were robbed of $265, including pennies from their children's piggy banks, and their family car between midnight and 8 a.m. on Monday.

Most of the money was in a wallet in Maddox's trouser pocket.

THE FBI TOLD Concord police on Tuesday that Saynes had been arrested in Arizona. He had about $230 in his possession.

Chief of Police Ron Orin said that his department did not know whether or not Saynes would be immediately remanded to custody in Concord.

"That will depend," the chief said, "whether or not the FBI decides to prosecute under the Dyer Act."

BUT ORIN SAID that Saynes would be returned to Concord eventually, possibly after his federal prison term if he is tried and convicted under the Dyer Act.

Bail on the theft warrant has been set at $10,000.

Here's A Very Thriving And Captive Hummingbird

By LOU HANBERRY

"Busy Buzzy" is a crazy mixed up hummingbird who thinks he is a parakeet.

The tiny bird fell from his nest into the yard of Steven and Betty Baum of Garce Drive, Concord, early last month and has been living in the Balog home since that time in the manner of a parakeet. He flies about the room, perches on his favorite lamp shade, drinks nectar from a dish and is even taking baths several times a day.

Things were not always so easy for Busy Buzzy.

When Betty and her daughters Claudia and Vickie first found him lying helpless on the grass it seemed a hopeless task to keep this tiny bit of bird alive, but he responded to honey and water fed to him from an eye dropper every hour.

After three weeks of this constant care by the Balogs, Busy Buzzy began to drink from a dish. His favorite sport in the evening is to catch insects around the lights for his dinner. Needless to say, Betty is seldom bothered by insects in the house these days.

The Balogs have a pet parakeet named BeeBop who is not in the least happy about the hummingbird sharing his home.

Another family pet who is still quite confused about him is General, the cat. He is sulking out of doors these days.

The fact that the tiny bird is still alive at all after nearly a month of living in captivity is a tribute to the care the Balogs have given him. A baby wild bird—particularly a hummingbird—is extremely difficult to raise without the care of its mother.

Busy Buzzy will perch on a shoulder and come when whistled at. He has decided that he likes living with the Balogs so well that he might just stay forever.

Gray Files Suit In Lot Dispute At Oak Springs

Attorney Nathan Gray has filed a suit attempting to prevent the State Real Estate Commission from blocking of 158 Oak Springs lots in Orinda.

The action was taken last Friday in Contra Costa Superior Court.

The suit contends the commission has indicated it will attempt to force the owners to conform with state law and the county's 5-year-old ordinance that regulates lot sizes, improvements and road frontages.

It says the firm has been ordered to appear before the commission August 29 to show cause why an order prohibiting the sale should not be issued.

The plaintiff claims neither law applies to the subdivision, since its maps were filed with the county between 1924 and 1926.

The acceptance of the subdivision antedates the county's regulatory laws, and the state is powerless to act as long as there is no attempt by the developer to change the map of the subdivision, the suit contends.

Extension of Real Estate Market Seen

Recent sharp fluctuations of the stock market and drops in many bond values have awakened new interest in congressional plans to open the stable real estate market to small investors.

This statement was made last Friday by Nick Carter, president of the Contra Costa Real Estate Board.

He added that both the Contra Costa Board and the National Association of Real Estate Boards have endorsed pending national legislation to this end.

Carter noted that on June 10, upon news of the President's stock price level, the stock market experienced the largest volume of selling this year (3,050,000 shares) with an average loss of 70 cents for 60 representative stocks, and that a recent Dow Jones bond average of 40 typical issues showed a drop to 88.14 per cent of face value.

"To the wise investor, all of this underlines the desirability of buying real estate as a hedge against inflation, as a means of securing a good return, and as a way of insuring the stable value of invested capital."

The earning power of real property keeps pace with the general price level, as does the resale value of good real estate holdings.

He explained that as far as the average small investor—the person with $500 to $1000 to invest—is concerned, he generally can enter the real estate market only in combination with others of like status.

This is obvious, he said, when it is remembered that the price of most commercial and rental housing properties runs to thousands of dollars.

The way to overcome this, Carter said, would be the formation of real estate investment trusts in which, for example, many persons could invest in the purchase of an office or an apartment building with ownership proportional to their investment.

He said that the chief obstacle to such a development which would open the doors to safe and lucrative investments for persons of moderate means lies in the fact that the federal government taxes real estate investment trusts as corporations. He quoted a nationally-known real estate authority as explaining the situation this way.

Signature Check Starts in Orinda

The checking of signatures on the Orinda petition for incorporation is underway.

The action followed a ruling by Assistant District Attorney Thomas McBride that some 3000-4000 acres owned by East Bay Municipal Utility District should not be included in the proposed city's land worth.

McBride ruled that the land could not be counted since it does not appear on the city's assessment rolls.

In order for the petition to be valid, the petition signers must own 25 per cent of the land value within the proposed city limits.

In answer to three other questions asked by Assessor C. L. Dunklee, McBride said the petition must contain the names of 25 per cent of the property owners and their land value must equal 25 per cent of the total.

Fractional values should be allocated in cases of community or joint tenants and one signature is not sufficient to use the entire assessed value where there are several owners of undivided portions.

Deputy Assessor Jerry Tara said it will take about 10 days to check the names and decide whether the petition qualifies for the election.

SLOW DRIVING

On a warm summer day it's nice to drive along slowly on the highway and enjoy the scenery, but remember, driving too slowly is just as dangerous as speeding. Keep pace with traffic and give the other drivers a break. If you want to loaf, pick some scenic side-road that has little traffic.

Himes Writes 400 Pages; Rejects Them for a Play

BY NORMAN COLBY

L. John Himes of Walnut Creek, a retired businessman, was dumbfounded when one day he sat down to work on a novel he had started a year earlier and discovered that "an entirely different story started to come out."

He told members of the San Ramon Valley Writers Workshop at a recent meeting that, "I was desperate."

"It was all in dialogue. If I was to write it at all, I would have to put it down in the form of a play."

"I STARTED to make an outline, but I knew nothing of playwriting. I had attended University of California classes only on the novel . . . now I was afraid I'd lose everything!"

"I called Mrs. Margaret Shedd, my university teacher, and told her I was in a heck of a fix. Here I was in the midst of the novel, 400 pages written and rewritten, and now something different wanted to come out—and as a play instead of a novel!"

"She advised me to put it down as it came out. So I didn't stop to look-up forms, but just got it on paper. Pretty crude it was, but I thought it had something."

"Then later I went to the library and studied some about the art of writing a play, and after that took a university course on Playwriting."

"THIS MAY ALL sound easy but it isn't," Himes continued.

He said that his play, titled "The Peppermint Stick," is near the production stage in New York. It is about people like those who live in the hills of Arkansas.

"They are hard to get started talking, but once they do, there is a great beauty in their speech. It is uneducated, but there is a flow, a poetry."

"I traveled to Arkansas and spent three weeks in the hills talking with them. I had spent two weeks on a vacation fishing trip in the area 20 years ago."

"THEN I came home and re-wrote the entire thing again."

"I had trouble with the first scene, a flashback. I reworked it 35 times, and finally had to throw it out."

Himes related how he secured an agent in New York and of the problems that followed.

He emphasized the tough job an agent has, and how the agent can help.

"FIFTY-IT UP, he was told. Too much talking in certain places, he was told."

After consultation and more consultation with his agent he reworked his play again, "from stem to stern."

They were able to interest a producer, but due to illness, Himes could not go to New York at that time.

The next year they were able to interest a director, and through a combination of circumstances

County CD Forces React To Mock H-Bomb Attack

How much theoretical harm was done to Contra Costa County last Friday when a theoretical five megaton hydrogen bomb was dropped on Treasure Island is being evaluated by Civil Defense authorities in the Berkeley regional office. But early reports say that "Thousands of lives were saved."

Mrs. Eleanor Daly, CD coordinator, commented that the reports should be ready soon, and added, "There were of course some cases of fire injury and radiation sickness, but strategic evacuation before hand avoided a disaster."

"Operation Alert, 1957" was a nation-wide test of Civil Defense preparations. It assumed that an enemy air striking force flew over the North Pole and hit with hydrogen bombs nearly every major population area in the United States.

In Contra Costa County, the preparation for possible attack and measures taken after the bomb fell at 12:25 p.m. last Friday were directed from the CD control center, 2130 Arnold Industrial Highway, Martinez.

The exercise officially continued at the center from 4 p.m. to 8 p.m. on Friday, but unofficially preparations had been underway for weeks.

The civil defense workers, under Director William Ward, were given the "news" that the enemy airplanes were on the way at about 9 in the morning, last Friday, and were later notified that at 12:25 the bomb had been dropped.

Similar information was sent from CD headquarters in Battle Creek, Mich., to all parts of the country.

The situation developed from the assumption that already 75 per cent of the Contra Costa population had been evacuated to Byron and Brentwood or further inland.

A theoretical national emergency alert started this "strategic evacuation" three weeks earlier.

The control center in the county then faced two major tasks: (1) remove the remaining 25 per cent to the mass care centers in Byron and Brentwood in the southeast part of the county, and (2) do everything possible to restore ordinary communications and utilities in the areas affected by the blast.

Foremost problem was radiation fallout. Ward and his assistants received word of its direction determined by the winds, and what areas of the county were affected.

The county's own radiological team was functioning under the leadership of Coordinator Barbara Burton.

Before the exercise was completed, the Byron and Brentwood centers were also evacuated, assuming that radiation endangered these areas.

All the facilities of the county were coordinated towards the swift evacuation along the only available Highways—Willow Pass Road out of Concord, and Highway 21 through Walnut Creek and Danville, going south.

This required the help of the Red Cross, the Sheriff's Department, California Highway Patrol, Pacific Gas and Electric Company, California Water Service, fire departments, physicians, and the following county departments: public works, social services, health, purchasing, and communications.

Top officials under Ward were four coordinators — Mrs. Daly, a Concord resident; Mrs. Burton of Concord, Ron Nelson of Walnut Creek and Col. Ralph Holmes of Walnut Creek.

Allen Rhodes of the sheriff's department is the law enforcement coordinator.

According to last month's CD newsletter, this is the first time that the exercise involved a strategic evacuation weeks before-

The evacuation of non-essential persons from critical target areas upon a worsening of the international situation, a safety measure prior to the possible beginning of hostilities."

The exercise was designed to answer the following question posed by the newsletter: "If the president of the United States in a time of international crisis advises people living in potential target areas to move away from the danger of a possible attack, how would California's civil defense forces deal with such a situation?"

County Gets $127,578 In Users Taxes

Robert C. Kirkwood, State Controller, announced today that highway users taxes totaling 26,657,337 were apportioned last month for California counties, cities, and the State Highway Fund for expenditure on highways.

A breakdown on distribution of the taxes, which were received in May, shows that $6,149,907 went to the counties in June. The State Highway Fund was apportioned $2,486,816 for distribution to cities, as well as a total of $18,021,114 for expenditure on State highways.

Contra Costa County's share amounted to $127,578% Kirkwood said.

The total apportionment for June shows a decrease of approximately $606 million or 69 per cent, from the amount distributed in May. The large difference results from a $65 million transfer from motor vehicle registration fees made to the State Highway Fund during April, 1957.

The latest distribution reflects an increase of $1,127,595, or 4.42 per cent, over the corresponding period of year ago, Kirkwood said.

Sources of the total distributed were: net gasoline tax, $23,048,224; use (diesel) fuel tax, $1,258,632; transfer from Motor Vehicle Transportation Tax Fund, $2,350,026; and miscellaneous, $445.

Gross gasoline taxes collected in May totaled $24,900,391, an increase of $3,223,442, or 14.87 per cent, over collections for the previous month. The gross collection was $800,395, or 3.32 per cent, higher than collections made in the same month last year.

Diablo Freeway Won't Suffer Construction Delay

Muir and grading work to be done in the canyon proper. BOOKER NOTED an "off the horse's back" figure of $10 million for the project but stated that this figure could vary a great deal.

He added that there were a good many factors which had not even taken in account concerning the Franklin Canyon Route and he had a very vague idea of property values in that area for purchase of right of way. As for an engineering study he was not in a position to comment on the steps which had been taken by the State Division of Highways.

The supervisors agreed with Greerty that maximum road facilities should be afforded to the proposed $12 million Veterans Administration Hospital from all points in the Northern California area.

ALTHOUGH THREE of the supervisors represent districts outside of the affected area (Supervisors Mel Nielsen, District Two; Joe Silva, District Five and Bud Buchanan, District Four) they all agreed that the plan was for the best interests of the entire county.

Supervisors of the affected area of the Franklin Canyon Route are Board Chairman Ray S. Taylor, District Three and Ivan Goyak, District One.

Taylor and Nielsen also represent the district affected most by the Diablo Freeway.

NIELSEN INFORMED The Sun that even though there was first position given to the Franklin Canyon project, it probably would take second rung to the Diablo Freeway project.

Nielsen stated that the Highway 24 project is an "intra state road project" and would take precedent over a project which would only effect the county.

Nielsen also added that the county board of supervisors approved the map for the extension of Sunnybrook Drive under the Lafayette Bypass to permit through traffic without crossing the freeway.

Nielsen who has been working on the project for two months, stated that the supervisors were informed by the State Highway Division that the bids would be called as soon as possible and construction would begin in the very near future.

PRESENT IN THE BOARD chambers yesterday when the action was taken were directors of the Happy Valley Improvement Association who were present on zoning matters. The directors, when shown the final map prepared by the state and approved by the supervisors, claimed the new cut through would be a benefit to commuters and residents of the area alike.

A hole will be cut in the fence near the El Nido Rancho at the west end of the freeway and a roadway will be constructed connecting at the bypass-overpass with both Mt. Diablo Boulevard leading back into Lafayette and Walnut Creek and the Oakland bound lanes.

"We must look to the future, after the hospital (Veterans Hospital, Martinez) is built; we must provide roads for workers at the hospital plus the thousands of people who will use its facilities.

"It was this that we took into consideration the most when we made our recommendations for state money to be appropriated for roads in Contra Costa," said Nielsen.

Odds Are On Judge Fraga For Superior Court Post

By POLITICUS

Will a Republican governor appoint a Democrat to a job sought by many Democrats but apparently by only one Republican?

That's the question being asked concerning the sixth superior court judgeship for Contra Costa County.

SINCE GOVERNOR Goodwin Knight signed the bill authored by Assemblyman S. C. Masterson boosting the county's superior judges from five to six, he hasn't been lacking in apparent candidates for the job.

However, all but Judge Tom Fraga of Martinez, are registered Democrats.

Among the Democratic candidates mentioned for the job is Concord's new municipal court judge, John Garventa. The appointment of Judge Garventa to the post would leave the municipal judgeship open and allow for another appointment by the governor.

Another name being mentioned is that of Vance Portier, Richmond attorney associated with Tony DeLap, one of the county's leading Republicans.

Concord city attorney Tom McBride, also a Democrat, has been mentioned in some quarters.

The only other Republican name that's been mentioned—and not frequently—is GOP attorney Francis Hoey of Martinez.

THE WORD is also that Assemblyman Donald Doyle, the only GOP representative from the county in the state legislature, is backing Fraga.

Doyle, state vice-chairman of the Republicans, was considered one of the leaders of the administration forces during the current session of the legislature.

If Fraga is considered to have the edge on Hoey, the probable results of the appointment seem evident.

Dramateurs Open Tonight With Hit Play 'Bus Stop'

The Dramateurs will open their summer season tonight, with William Inge's current hit—"Bus Stop" which will play July 19, 20, 26 and 27 at Lafayette Town Hall. Curtain time: 8:30 p.m. Tickets will be available at the box office on the nights of the performances, or can be had by calling CL 3-3530 (evenings) and CL 4-3317 (daytime).

DIRECTOR CARL Rasmussen, who has been responsible for the direction of previous Dramateur successes last summer at Town Hall as well as during the fall and winter at Berkeley High Theater, has gathered a bevy of fine local talent to star in this production.

Jack Varner, Corrinne Neumann (feminine lead), Orealla Salonen, and Deanna Dinkin (teen-age daughter of Edith and Leon Dinkin), have all been members of the Walnut Creek Intimate Theater when it was active.

Merritt Mann (Cowboy lead) is an English teacher at San Ramon High, and has appeared in Dramateur productions for the past three years. He has a "home" lead right now: that of a brand new "papa" to the fourth beautiful daughter. And then there is Jim Harris—president of the Dramateurs—and star of their Spring Play, "High Ground."

THIS PLAY will be given "in the round," and is the co-operative effort of all the members of the group both acting-wise and production-wise, and everybody has given a "helping" hand on props, scenery and costumes under the technical director, Stan Stillson.

Others responsible for co-ordinating the group efforts are Connie Sterne (costumes); Jim Stanislawsky (house manager); Gary Lawrence (promotion); Paul Pol-laczek (stage manager); Betty Reynolds and Jane Steele (tickets); Peg Stanislawsky and Helen Blankenburg (assistant director); Paul Hansen (business manager); Jewel Scheline (publicity); Doris Stillson (props); Edith Dinkin (make-up).

The informal atmosphere of Town Hall will lend itself to this comedy, which local residents should find delightful "Summer Theater."

NAVLETS holds Treasure Hunt

Fifteen hundred prizes were awarded during a three day annual treasure hunt sponsored by Navlet's Nursery last weekend.

Approximately 7500 people participated in the activities, according to Lloyd Reeves of the nursery.

FIRST PRIZE, a $50 merchandise order, was won by James Trader of 925 Victory Lane, Concord. Second and third prizes of $25 merchandise orders were won by Ada Elliot of Lafayette and E. Jardine of Concord.

O. S. Salvenson of Walnut Creek took fourth place and a $10 merchandise order.

A guessing game sponsored by Gaviotta Lawn Food was won by Floyd Stevens of Concord.

STREETS GUESSED 2,450,340 pellets in a bowl actually containing 2,484,000.

A $26 Corona Garden Tool chest was won by Howard Mastne of Concord.

Record High CCJC Budget Airing Set

Public hearing for the proposed $3,364,888 budget for the Contra Costa Junior College will be held August 1, according to Drummond McCunn, superintendent.

Trustees of the district indicated Monday night that they are in favor of a tax cut, but don't see any way of cutting the 35.6 tax rate without giving up the district's building program.

ELTON BROMBACHER, chairman, said he favored a reduction of at least one or two cents in the tax rate but did not see any way of doing it or how it could be done.

The district is undergoing a pay-as-you-go construction program and that a 35.6 tax would have to be retained to support the all time high budget proposed at the $3 million plus figure.

The taxing limit of the district is 35 cents. The 6 cents is for financing a retirement fund.

In other action the board approved the five year building plan of McCunn. This plan includes:

EAST CAMPUS—1957-58, technical education building; 1958-59, first unit of a life science building; 1959-60, classroom units; 1960-61, vocational arts building; 1961-62, additional science classrooms.

WEST CAMPUS—1957-58, vocational arts building; 1958-59, student activities building; 1959-60, technical education building; 1960-61, life science building; 1961-62, library building.

McCunn also estimated that the enrollment at the East Campus will increase from the present 1440 to 2050 by 1961.

He said the expected 1961 enrollment at the West Campus near Richmond is 2100; the present enrollment is 1400.

Walnut Creek Sponsors Seal Contest

Walnut Creek is looking for a design for an official, brand-new City Seal, according to Mayor John Connolly.

The winner of the contest to provide the city with such a seal will be announced at the Walnut Festival in September.

Walnut Creek City Manager Ira Gunn and Diablo Art Association President Mrs. Marian Love met recently to discuss plans for the contest. The seal will be used for all official city vehicles, on city documents and on the city stationery.

Rules for the contest, which is open to all, include:

1. Open to artists in Contra Costa County.
2. This will be a preliminary color sketch, done on 14x22 poster board, using three colors on a background.
3. It should be circular in shape, with the words "City of Walnut Creek, California" around the outside edge.
4. Any center emblem design used should be representative of the area.
5. Entries due September 13. Should be turned in at the Walnut Creek City Hall between the hours of 8:30 and 5 p.m.

Mental Health Duty Local Now, Kracke Says

With the signing of the Short-Doyle Act by Governor Goodwin Knight a heavy responsibility has been placed upon the county's mental and health associations and the county Board of Supervisors, according to Frederick C. Kracke, president of the Central Contra Costa Mental Health Association, a member agency of the United Crusade.

Kracke pointed out that the newly enacted state bill provides for community mental health services to be supported equally by the state of California and by participating cities and counties.

"OUR OBJECTIVE must be to meet the needs of the residents in the county for educational and treatment services within our ability to bear the costs of facilities and to share the costs of these services," Kracke said.

County residents can be justly proud of their legislative representatives for their efforts towards recognition by the state legislators of the importance and need for both preventive mental health services and adequate treatment for those who could be substantially aided by mental health clinics.

Crusade's Publicity is Assigned to Floyd Reis

Floyd Reis of Walnut Creek has been appointed public relations chairman of the Contra Costa County United Crusade campaign.

Reis is staff assistant to the general superintendent of Columbia Steel, Pittsburg, on civic and community affairs. He is a member of the Walnut Creek Elks Club, Pittsburg Rotary Club, board of directors of Pittsburg Chamber of Commerce and secretary-treasurer of Pittsburg Anti-Church Industrial Association.

"We are pleased to have Floyd Reis serve as countywide chairman in this initial attempt to develop and coordinate a more concentrated effort in our public relation division," Jack Mullen, county vice chairman, said.

"Our county organization is widespread and includes East, West and Central Contra Costa. With Reis at the wheel we know that the time consuming efforts and work of all local public relation chairmen will be better integrated."

Reis said "Contra Costa County has been mushrooming in recent years. The tremendous influx of industry—both big and small—has also greatly accelerated our population growth. Undoubtedly we are the fastest growing county in the entire state of California."

Serving with Reis in the various county areas as local public relation chairmen are Robert Woodring for Pittsburg, George T. Blumenson, Richmond; George Eberhardt of Orinda for Diablo Valley, Fred Ernest for Martinez, and Charles Bosley for Concord.

Orinda Cites County Dept. For Good Job

Excellent cooperation and a job well done by the Department of Public Works was reported Monday by Clifford C. Rea, president of Orindans Incorporated.

"Our Board of Directors voted to write the county to repair a road with bad chuck holes and to change the speed limits on Overhill Road and to do something about the hidden stop sign on Brookside at Moraga Highway. I quote below from letters received from the county which were backed up with prompt action," states Rea.

June 3, 1957

Dear Mr. Rea:

As you requested in your letter of May 15th, we were happy to patch the bad holes on Overhill Road. This road deteriorates rather rapidly so continued patching is necessary. We will make every effort to maintain Overhill Road in a safe condition but will appreciate your continued cooperation on such matters.

Signed by:

J. N. McKENZIE
Assistant Maintenance of Public Works Director
June 2, 1957

Dear Mr. Rea:

At your request a study was made of the speed restrictions on Overhill Road and Brookside Road in Orinda.

The California Vehicle Code governs the establishment of speed limits. A 25 mile speed limit can be posted only in a business district or a residential district having at least 16 houses per quarter mile.

Brookside Road and the part of Overhill Road now zoned for a 35 mile per hour speed limit do not qualify for a 25 mile per hour speed limit. However, the last session of the Legislature authorized the use of a 30 mile per hour speed limit based on an engineering study.

Such study has been made and, as a result, the 35 mile per hour speed limit on Overhill Road will be reduced to 30 miles per hour.

IN ADDITION, a "Stop Ahead" sign will be installed on Brookside Road, north of Moraga Highway.

Signed:

MARK L. KERMIT
Traffic Engineer of the Public Works Department

Suburbia Scribblings

By MARIE MONAHAN

A christmas in july

A SYSTEMATIC SUMMER for one Orinda lady who has written name AND notes on almost 100 Xmas cards thus far this summer while simmering at the pool.

"SURPRISE PRESENT" for Dorothy Hampton of El Toyonal Rd. who a few wks. ago casually packed a few things to accompany her husband Bob on a brief "little holiday," w/Bob casually venturing they MIGHT go to the beach.

Which they did, alright! "Beach" being the famous Waikiki one and Dorothy NOT learning they were Hawaii-bound 'til they were practically fastening their seat belts for the flight across the Pacific.

LADY IN GLORIETTA, who's always fresh out of tea bags when tea-fan friend from Sleepy Hollow comes to call, was quite delighted w/her B'day gift from same friend last week—A cannister containing 100 tea bags w/card attached, which read—"Dear Jane, Don't know whether these are To You FROM Me—or To You FOR Me, but Happy Birthday anyhow!"

Kids still humming "hernandos hideaway"

We're sandwiching this in between eleven loads of laundry. The ONLY disillusioning evidence of a heavenly holiday in Carmel Valley.

A WONDERFUL TIME! Stoked the sprouts to their hearts' content on banana splits & spec. sundaes at BLUM'S, Carmel. . . . Fished at Bisnett's Trout Farm in the Valley and along Monterey coastline. . . . Enjoyed the fun of the whole family in front row seats for the WHARF PLAYHOUSE production of "Pajama Game." The kids knew the entire "score" so we made THIS a special occasion!

Then there was Sunday smorgasbord and swimming at Los Laureles Lodge, Christmas-shopping the Carmel shops and the careful choosing of an anniversary gift. A St. Francis shrine of grey weathered wood to match the oaks in our garden. On our first visit to CARMEL MISSION, it's ethereal museum, historic atmosphere and beautiful gardens, we were reluctant to leave.

BUT NO GOLF! There WASN'T room for father's clubs in the car after it was loaded down w/four sleeping bags, air mattresses, bags, balls, bats and baggage, blankets and fishing poles, etc.

What's your system on this?

We took far more clothes than we ever wore. (Does EVERYONE do that?) And were four hours late leaving. (Does everyone do THAT?) And even farther off schedule coming home. (You, too?)

IS THERE AN EASY WAY? Dog farmed out, cats cared for, but last minute we remembered our goldfish (last yr. it was rabbits!) whom we transferred to a lukewarm neighbor. Then the note for the Milkman! And, oh yes, the Breadman! Not to mention the Eggman. And while we were at it, the Mailman!

Do YOU have a system? By the time we got off OUR way, we might as well stay away for months. Might as well!! (I, for one, could have gone to China w/SIX pairs of shoes along!)

Adding SOME system to our vacation was Susan Cox, young daughter of Sylvia and Robert Cox, who went along as a most charming and helpful companion for our children.

A horse divided—by fourteen kids?

SOME PEOPLE WITH SYSTEMS, as well as SYSTEMS! Rugged ones, that is! Sounds like a real SAFARI, the pack trip that the Millard Simons will take in Wyoming this summer for which they did some practice-hiking at Lassen last wknd.

Phyllis and Bud (as Millard is called) and their children will meet at Point X on the map, a group that includes 16 adults, 14 kids, 13 pack animals and one (1), that's right, ONE horse. (For Fourteen children?)

Joining the party (PARTY?) will be the Don Jontes and the Bob Pattersons of Orinda and former Orindans Bill and June Viane and their youngsters who'll come all the way from Texas for the trip. Another family will come West from as far off as Boston for this expedition into the Wind River country.

And here's REAL SYSTEM for you! Each family will be responsible for one day's meals only (ONLY?) for thirty (30) ravenous and mammoth-sized mountain-climbing appetites.

The Ray Haywoods hied themselves off to Carmel last wknd. and the famous Yosemite firefalls hold fond memories for the Robert Aitchisons who just returned from there while the Jim Davisons are probably half-way up Half Dome this very minute!

The Ray Ensmingers of "Grizzly Stables" left their horses home, the better to cruise by car the Oregon and Washington scenery. . . . Just back from a ten-day trek in this same territory, and taking in Canada, too, the Morris Jeppsons of Miner Rd.

The Don Minklers are christening the new pool at Berkeley's Echo Lake Camp. . . . Ted Taylor's family at their CAZADERO cabin. . . . Forgot to mention earlier that we bumped into Ed and Evelyn Roberts over the Fourth at Monterey. THEY, too, enjoying the scenery and salt-sea breezes w/their dgtrs. Kathy and Judy and Ed's mother, Mrs. Gwen Lester who has been visiting here from Portland.

LOTS OF CONTACTS, literally, and a marvelous time for Jane and Bob Lester who recently returned from a Chicago convention and the red-carpet treatment, Dr. Bob (who is officed in SF and teaches "contact-lenses" at UC) among the prominent lens authorities invited to attend the national confab.

B of A Bids Opening Set

Bids will be opened August 14 on general construction of an air-conditioned permanent home of contemporary design for Bank of America in Lafayette, Manager Clifford B. Silvan announced today.

The project is expected to get under way around the first of September, the manager said, adding "we expect to be greeting our customers in our new quarters in the spring of 1958."

Silvan estimated the bank's investment in the community at approximately $275,000 including land and improvements.

The building, which will have a large customer parking lot adjoining, will be located on Mt. Diablo Boulevard two blocks east of the bank's temporary location where Silvan opened for business in June of 1956.

To be constructed of architectural concrete reinforced with steel, the bank will have more than twice as much space as the present quarters and will enable several additional services to be offered, including safe deposit boxes, the manager said.

The 43,700-square foot site, on the north side of Mt. Diablo Boulevard opposite Moraga Road and Plaza Way, was purchased last year from J. R. Torchio.

Hinkson Is Named Jaycee of Month

Dick Hinkson, owner of Hinkson's Bakery, and recently elected director of the Lafayette Junior Chamber of Commerce was selected "Man of the Month" for the month of June.

It was because of Dick's excellent chairmanship of the Lafayette By-Pass Carnival that he was awarded this honor, said a spokesman.

The Jaycees operated two booths during the three day celebration. The Nickel Pitch and the Bear Pitch netted the organization $350 of which 50 per cent will be turned over to the Lafayette Community Center.

Cameron Ashby, president of the Lafayette Junior Chamber of Commerce made the award at the last general meeting at the El Nido Rancho on July 8.

Jaycees Get National 1st

The Lafayette Junior Chamber of Commerce was awarded first place in the United States at the recent national convention of the Junior Chamber of Commerce in Milwaukee, Wis.

The award for the best scrapbook on International Relations related the founding, organization and execution of the "Operation Freedom" drive to aid the suffering Hungarian peoples during their fight for freedom last November.

The birth of this idea in the mind of Clark Coldren spread from the local organization to the state level. This drive channelled many dollars and needed supplies and clothing to the United Nations Relief Organization.

SOME PEOPLE WITH SYSTEMS, as well as SYSTEMS! Rugged ones, that is! Sounds like a real SAFARI, the pack trip that the Millard Simons will take in Wyoming this summer for which they did some practice-hiking at Lassen last wknd.

Phyllis and Bud (as Millard is called) and their children will meet at Point X on the map, a group that includes 16 adults, 14 kids, 13 pack animals and one (1), that's right, ONE horse. (For Fourteen children?)

Joining the party (PARTY?) will be the Don Jontes and the Bob Pattersons of Orinda and former Orindans Bill and June Viane and their youngsters who'll come all the way from Texas for the trip. Another family will come West from as far off as Boston for this expedition into the Wind River country.

And here's REAL SYSTEM for you! Each family will be responsible for one day's meals only (ONLY?) for thirty (30) ravenous and mammoth-sized mountain-climbing appetites.

The Ray Haywoods hied themselves off to Carmel last wknd. and the famous Yosemite firefalls hold fond memories for the Robert Aitchisons who just returned from there while the Jim Davisons are probably half-way up Half Dome this very minute!

The Ray Ensmingers of "Grizzly Stables" left their horses home, the better to cruise by car the Oregon and Washington scenery. . . . Just back from a ten-day trek in this same territory, and taking in Canada, too, the Morris Jeppsons of Miner Rd.

The Don Minklers are christening the new pool at Berkeley's Echo Lake Camp. . . . Ted Taylor's family at their CAZADERO cabin. . . . Forgot to mention earlier that we bumped into Ed and Evelyn Roberts over the Fourth at Monterey. THEY, too, enjoying the scenery and salt-sea breezes w/their dgtrs. Kathy and Judy and Ed's mother, Mrs. Gwen Lester who has been visiting here from Portland.

LOTS OF CONTACTS, literally, and a marvelous time for Jane and Bob Lester who recently returned from a Chicago convention and the red-carpet treatment, Dr. Bob (who is officed in SF and teaches "contact-lenses" at UC) among the prominent lens authorities invited to attend the national confab.

Bullet Crashes Through Window Of Orinda Home

The Fourth of July was quiet enough at the Michael Dugener home at 78 Scenic Drive, Orinda, until 11:30 a.m., when a bullet crashed through a patio window and went through two walls and a half-way door.

The Dugeners' 21-year-old son, Jeff, was in his crib in an adjoining room.

"If the bullet had gone only 5 or 6 feet to the right, it would have hit the crib," Mrs. Dugener said later.

MR. DUGENER, who had been watering the lawn, immediately called the sheriff's office and Deputy Sheriff William Faulkner arrived at the scene within 10 minutes. He found the bullet on the hallway floor.

Inspector Norman Wilson, in charge of the sheriff's substation in Lafayette, said last weekend that the bullet was apparently a .22-caliber bullet, which could have been fired from a pistol or a rifle.

He estimated that the bullet could have been fired from a distance up to within a mile from the Dugener home, but he pointed out that it was hard to say with any degree of certainty how far the bullet had traveled.

Mrs. Dugener was washing dishes when the bullet crashed through the patio window.

POSSIBILITY that the bullet was fired from the wooded area below Crest View Drive was being considered by the sheriff's office, Wilson stated.

Wilson said that there were several possibility—someone may have been hunting deer in the area, or may have been shooting at trees or even at the large blue-and-white circled patio umbrella which had been outside the patio window.

He warned that it is against the law to make promiscuous use of any type of gun in this area. Use of a gun here is permissible only when necessary, as when killing vermin, he said.

Frivolity Found In Local Pools

An unsteady breeze brought some relief from the heat this week and a cool front from the ocean was welcome Wednesday night.

The readings have been averaging in the middle eighties but Tuesday proved to be the hottest day of the week around these parts.

Whether it was hot, middlin' or cool, Contra Costans were not to be deterred from their outdoor barbecues and the young people from their swimming pool frivolity.

Are You Still Alive.... And Are You Prepared?

Are you alive today?

You may think this is a silly question, because if you aren't, you certainly wouldn't be reading this. But the question is not so silly if we consider a hypothetical problem . . . and your hypothetical reaction.

If the hypothetical hydrogen bomb which was "dropped" on Treasure Island last Friday at 12:25 p.m. had been real, you might very well have no more worries.

Whether or not you would be alive now, might have depended a great deal on what precautions you had taken and what plans you had made.

You might not even have been aware that a mock "air raid" was scheduled for last Friday, and you probably went about your business just as you always do.

But what if it had been real?

It was "real" to thousands of Civil Defense workers who used the mock air raid to test their facilities and communications throughout the county.

They are doing their best to be prepared for any eventuality, and your life may well depend on their efforts and their preparedness.

But this does not remove the necessity for individual planning, and for preparedness on our part. After all, the Civil Defense people are going to be very busy if an attack does occur, and the more self-sufficient each of us is, the more likelihood there will be that greater numbers will be saved.

The Civil Defense operation is covered elsewhere in this paper in a news story. We might each ask ourselves some questions, as we read about the "results."

All west-bound traffic through our county was halted. That means that if you were east of your home, you would not be able to return and pick up your wife and children. Do they have emergency arrangements made? Do you know where to look for your family if you must suddenly be evacuated and are separated?

Do you have emergency food supplies to carry you through the difficult days before you can reorganize your family and get a routine started?

Remember, also, in this mock "attack" the Civil Defense people predicted a three week "warning" during which most of the evacuation had taken place.

If it were to actually occur this way, there is no doubt that most families would be able to stick together and work things out on a more leisurely basis than if an attack were imminent.

But can we count on that much time? Civil Defense people hope so, and we all hope that the necessity will not arise. But none of these "hopes" can take the place of preparedness—by each of us. Remember, a little precaution and trouble taken now may very well save your life, or the lives of your family.

So Civil Defense has the plans, and there are spots that are "safe" according to present knowledge. The rest is up to us. Are we prepared to save our own lives?

We'd better be!

Perhaps Diluted Bortsch With Vodka Will Help

"It is quite a change from a position of power to a power position!" Georgi Malenkov told this writer today as he diluted his borsch with vodka.

"I think I shall enjoy managing a hydro-electric plant. It is much better than being planted and, even if I am 1800 miles from Moscow, I shall keep up on current events. I just hope that I don't get another shock!"

Comrads Khrushchev has warned all his henchmen in the satellites to take a bit easier on the citizenry. After East Germany, Poland, and Hungary he is probably afraid he might have a lot of bad Czechs bouncing around.

I understand that the D. A. is really going to purify this county by insisting that all card rooms use nothing but soap chips—just to keep the games clean. This news, I'm sure, will soon have the gambling fraternity in a lather.

Sports car devotees have a lot of hazards to face. A friend of mine was waiting for a signal light to change and a character in a Cadillac mashed a cigar butt out on the floor of his MG. Thought it was an ash tray.

Dear "Sports Fan," the reason barber colleges don't have football teams is because they can't keep their players from clipping.

This is one I can't answer H. F. C. asks why they call baseball games on account of rain. Why couldn't the players paddle around in the dugouts they sit in between innings.

I took Bob Rapida's advice the other day and walked down to meet a new neighbor. His wife told me he was attempting to lose weight but wouldn't seriously attempt to stay on a diet. I walked out in the backyard and, by way of starting conversation, said:

"Have you tried, fish lips?"

I must have paused at the wrong point because he slugged me.

Yes, Bob, a little walking around on the outside does you a world of good. The guys at "Q" wholeheartedly agree with you!

FLUORIDATION

Dear Editor:

I would like to express greatest appreciation to Richard W. Leland for his replies to letters opposing Fluoridation.

I would like to ask Mrs. Fred Brown if she would list the dozens of cities which she mentions which have discontinued fluoridation after a five year trial.

If anyone is uncertain as to the desirability of water fluoridation he should learn more about it from his doctor and dentist in whom he has confidence. In our local area he should write the Contra Costa Health Department for the free leaflets.

He may also get a copy of studies from communities already having fluoridation.

Perhaps you belong to an organization which would endorse fluoridation if it knew more about it. You should write in favor of it to your local water company and to officials on the local, state and federal levels.

A ready list of specific names may be had from the Contra Costa Health Department.

RE: "LIGHTER SIDE"

Dear Editor:

The column "On The Lighter Side" appearing in The Sun has been pleasant reading, with Ina Bleisner and Connie Kieny keeping it refreshingly on the lighter side.

The Therapy Center has long appreciated the cooperation and publicity you have given the auxiliaries as well as to the Center itself, and by making this column possible, feel you are rendering a real service.

Congratulations on the recent National Award for the community relations and newspaper promotion. You do indeed deserve it, and we're proud to know you.

FOR THE RECORD

Dear Editor:

In a recent news item covering the last meeting of the Stanley School Parents Club, it was reported that I was presented with a desk set.

Just to set the record straight—and give credit where it is due—the parents club presented the desk set to Jane Patorio, school principal, in appreciation of all the tireless and devoted work she has done for the school during her term of office.

This is a good time to also thank you for your cooperation this year in helping us keep the public and our members posted on the activities of the Parents Club. We are most grateful.

ROBERT EDWARDS

SURPRISED

Dear Editor:

I congratulate you and Lou Cannon on the staff corner article, "Let's Be Imprudent Enough." I am frankly surprised at your courage in publishing such an article in a newspaper of this area since it is certainly not yet a popular viewpoint.

I feel it is a newspaper's responsibility to lead the way and I wish to express my appreciation for your recognition of this.

With bold stroke of powerful pen, your firm veto did defend, and gave us taxpayers cause for glee!

We expected this year your like decree.

Letters to The Editor

FLUORIDE

Dear Editor:

It is interesting to know from Mr. Leland, that deadly poison sodium fluoride is tasteless. Perhaps it might be used as a more humane execution method at San Quentin.

What a set up for communist saboteurs in our water departments at the start of any future war. We would all be dead before we knew what happened.

OR MAYBE this set up is one of the purposes of this fluoridation promotion.

"Who is behind fluoridation and who stands to profit?"

According to a release prepared by the Citizens Committee Against Fluoridation, La Crosse, Wis., scar Ewing, attorney for the Aluminum Company of America, which has sodium fluoride as a waste product, gave the fluoridation movement its big push when he became Federal Security Administrator.

HE LEFT A very high-salaried job with ALCOA to take $17,500 as F.S. head. In 1951 his agency asked for $2 million for fluorine propaganda alone.

He also had millions of dollars to give out to dental and medical colleges, state departments of health as money grants. Of course, these money grants are given only to those dental and medical colleges and state health departments who foster and promote the programs of the US Public Health Service.

It all fits together like a glove! Thus the price of sodium fluoride jumped from 1½ cents a pound when sold as a rat poison up to as much as 15 cents a pound when sold for human consumption in drinking water.

YES, I UNDERSTAND Mr. Leland must be interested in this program beyond the confines of one's own home.

I must compliment him on his very professional manner in conducting the fluoridation promotion. He is following closely the pattern laid down by the national sponsors of this scheme.

Personally, I'm just a housewife and mother interested only in the people of this area, and my own family.

I HAVE DONE a lot of reading on both the pros and cons of this subject and on nutrition, and I'm not about to be taken in by all the high sounding authorities and propaganda that is being released.

Maybe when all the chips are down, Mr. Leland will find that mothers and people of this area are not as dumb as he thinks.

MRS. JOHN JEFFREY

CONGRATULATIONS

Dear Editor:

Just got back from an Eastern vacation to note that you folks have come through again.

Congratulations on winning a "first" in the nation and an "honorable mention" for "Under the Sun" column.

Keep up the good work.

Supervisors' Action May Slow Freeway Completion

By HERMAN SILVERMAN

People of Contra Costa County (that's you and me) are trying to understand what happened at the meeting of our county supervisors and State highway officials last Friday.

Here is the story:

For years everyone, including the supervisors, has plugged for construction of the "Diablo Freeway," Highway 24 from Oakland through Orinda, Lafayette, Walnut Creek, Pleasant Hill and Concord. Also important is a freeway south of Walnut Creek.

Freeways Come to Life...

After years of disappointment, funds for the freeway started coming through. You know what has happened—the Orinda and Alcalanes Junction interchanges were built, the Lafayette By-pass, parts of the freeway between Walnut Creek and Pleasant Hill, construction has now been started on both legs of the Walnut Creek By-pass, linking it to the Lafayette By-pass.

But a freeway is only as good as its weakest link and there are still some missing links on our much-used road—an inter-change at the Happy Valley end of the Lafayette By-pass, the stretch between Lafayette and Orinda, from Orinda to the tunnel and on into the big cities, the Tunnel itself needs several additional bores and the freeway needs to be extended from Pleasant Hill to Concord and from Pleasant Hill north.

That the entire freeway needs to be completed is obvious to anyone traveling it. This was dramatically illustrated when the Lafayette By-pass was completed. Ask the thousands of commuters who drive merrily over the Lafayette By-pass each morning—it's wonderful. Then, suddenly traffic slows down at the west end, as lanes of traffic from Lafayette and Happy Valley and Hidden Valley channel onto the old highway between Happy Valley and Orinda.

Back to the Point of the Story

Well, I'm taking a long time to tell what happened last Friday in Martinez when officials of the State Chamber, the county and state gathered to set up recommendations for freeway priorities in the county.

Our supervisors surprised everyone by giving No. 1 priority to the Franklin Canyon Highway, Route 4—linking Martinez with the new Cummings Sky-way.

As surprised as anyone was B. W. Booker, the State Traffic Engineer, Division IV—the top man in this entire area. According to the reports I received, Booker heard the Martinez Chamber officials, our supervisors and road engineer recommend the Franklin Canyon job ahead of Diablo Freeway.

Booker showed his confusion at the county's reversal of its past recommendations. He pointed out that last year all emphasis was on the completion of the Diablo Freeway. His pay off argument was that the Diablo Freeway is in an advance state of planning for its completion; that plans haven't even been started for the Franklin Canyon job.

Who Decides What?

Booker and State Chamber officials must report the recommendations of our county officials to State Highway officials, who ultimately decide priority—and decide who gets next year's appropriations.

I have confidence that the state isn't going to start the Franklin Canyon Freeway, which is used so much less than Diablo Freeway, before they finish the major links in our area. And yet—it is possible that our supervisors' recommendation could cause delays in the appropriations. In any event, it certainly lends confusion to the picture.

The Sun news staff is digging into this—and there will be more details in the first section.

Now is certainly the time when we should let the State Division of Highways, Highway Commission and State Chamber know that we strongly recommend the completion of the Diablo Freeway. This should be done as soon as possible by all of our local chambers of commerce, improvement associations, Diablo Highway Federation, Commuters Association, city and district officials.

The supervisors' recommendation should be counteracted immediately.

On The Lighter Side

by INA BLIESNER
YE 4-3818

And here is some flicker news—that ever active group! Jean and Dick Duval are spending a three weeks vacation in Los Angeles with their two children. The Sal Carusos of Lakewood expect an addition to their family on Halloween—and I don't mean a "punkin-head". The Carusos already have a son, Joey, who is now about one and a half years old.

Bev Curtis has flown to Salt Lake City with her oldest daughter to attend the wedding of her niece. Bill will take a last minute flight so that he can participate in the first family wedding.

The wine tasting party at the E. William Palmers home Saturday night was a huge success. It, of course, was for the benefit of the Therapy Center. A clever circus theme was used with an array of stuffed circus animals, lifelike circus horses, gaily colored balloons, and wonderful wines.

Mental note of outstanding ensembles: Muriel Alexander in a strapless, blue Hawaiian print (sarong style) with matching stole and golden bdown tan (wow). Ruth (Mrs. Hap) Magee especially chic in a beige linen sheath. Mrs. Jack Wenger cute as ever in a surf green princess type frock with a boat neckline.

It doesn't meow, or bark, either, but . . .

Have saved the best news for last—or maybe I'm just prejudiced. The many friends of Bobbye and Bill McGuire are still breathless over their unexpected and happy, happy news. Maybe there are a few of you who haven't heard, though I seriously doubt it—don't you?

After many years of being mother and father to their beloved cats and dogs—and taking many a ribbing about it—yes, you guessed it! The most adorable little baby boy, whom they have named "Bobbie" has come to live with them. He must be as sharp as their come—for otherwise how could he have picked a better home? Last Friday night Van (Mrs. Stanford) Holmgren and Laurie (Mrs. Ernest) Abbes gave a shower for Bobbye. (The only fault in my whole vacation was that I had to miss it.) Most of the evening was spent talking about "you-know-who" and watching an excited new mother open her gifts.

Later refreshments were served—lovely sandwich rolls, coffee and a delectable cake with the words "Welcome Bobbye" engraved upon it. Bobbye did have to pay a bit of a price though, for the guests wouldn't let her get away without doing at least one of her newly learned hulas.

Some of those present were Shirley Wisecarver, Nancy Purrington, Mary Lou Priewe, Jean Phelan, Jackie Fain, Peggy Ong, Marcelyn Martin, (all Towhees), Eleanor Ray, Dorothy Lundblad, Steve Huckle, Edith Seatena and Nell Costello. Of course, Lauda Hyde, Bobbye's sweet mother was there.

Rave Notices: A little more about the Holmgrens—they will be spending three weeks at their cabin at Clear Lake with their three children. When they return, it will be time to start planning and packing. Can you imagine! In September they will be leaving for a nine-months-tour of Europe. The whole family, that is.

Anyone for home travel movies?

Lots of vacation news available this week—so here goes. Mr. and Mrs. William Preuss of Danville spent the 4th of July weekend visiting relatives in North Hollywood.

Tom Hannan, son of Mrs. James Hannan of Orinda, is now on cruise to Valpariso, Chile, with the Naval ROTC unit of Dartmouth College. He left the East Coast on June 15 for the summer cruise. Next year, Tom will be a sophomore at Dartmouth.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest C. Holman of Walnut Creek plan a trip North in July. They will visit relatives and friends in Washington and plan to fish on the Campbell River in British Columbia. Planning a trip to Grand Canyon, Bryce and Zion Parks and other points of interest are Mr. and Mrs. William Nodder.

Recently their very attractive daughter Janie was married to Jim Klick and they are now occupying an apartment in Berkeley. Son, Russ Nodder is stationed at Sunnyvale with the Air Corps. Navy again, Tony Taliaferro, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Taliaferro of Walnut Creek, is now spending two weeks in the Naval Reserve at San Diego. The Fred Fosters are vacationing in the heavenly Hawaiian Islands. Before leaving, Mrs. Foster was honored at a luncheon given by Mrs. Carleton Hawes of Walnut Boulevard. Guests included the Mesdames William Pruess, N. Taliaferro Paul Lawrence, Ralston Bullitt, Elberta Glass and Paul Nave.

The popular Paul Nave family is spending the summer at Kings Beach, Tahoe. Mrs. Edward Larmer of Lafayette rushed into the Linnet meeting having just come from the S. F. International Airport where she and Mrs. Larmer had seen their son and his wife (the Peter Larmer) off for a summer in Europe.

They plan to purchase a Volkswagon in England and tour the continent. Young Mr. Larmer is a graduate student in the school of Business Administration at Stanford.

And furthermore, that ain't hay!

Jack Campbell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arch Campbell of Alamo is working this summer on his dad's barley ranch near Colusa. Jack is a recent graduate of San Ramon High School. The Darrell Jensens have really toured. They spent five weeks in Alaska and Canada.

Sailing from Vancouver on the Princess Louise, they shipped their car along with them and debarked at Skagway, Alaska. Car and passengers went via railroad to Whitehorse, Yukon Territory. Then they drove the Alaskan Highway to Fairbanks and Anchorage.

In Anchorage, they were guests of a college classmate of Mr. Jensen. The return trip was made driving to interesting points on the way south. Lake Louise and Banff, Glacier Park and Yellowstone Park were among the highlights of their trip. Pete Jensen, their son, who will be a senior at Las Lomas High in September, has been working at Zephyr Point during the summer. He took time out, however, to accompany his parents on the trip.

All of the women mentioned above are associated with the Linnet Unit—that very hard working group who sponsor the Thrift Shop. One of these days we'll talk about their project—a wonderful one.

Mary Doyle Unit members and their husbands enjoyed a potluck supper with swimming and dancing on a recent Saturday night. It was held in the spacious home of Madge and Jim Baird on Mariposa Court in Danville. Doris and Bob Ausfaul were in charge of arrangements with a committee which included Marge and Tom Graham, Sally and Bab Gould, Claire and Jim Grimm, Bee and Glenn Gibbs.

Greeting the 65 guests was Betty (Mrs. Wadsworth) White of golden beauty fame. She is the unit's president and was wearing a dainty rose-sprigged cotton frock. Being introduced as new members were Gail (Mrs. Alen) Faber, Ruth (Mrs. Hap) Magee, Grace (Mrs. Melvin) Katzer, Dorothy (Mrs. James) Stone and, of course, their husbands.

Father's had 'resistance' practice!

How fathers escaped, we'll never know. The entire Harry Bowers family (with one exception) has been down with the flu. They are so hopeful that they will be on board when vacation time rolls around.

Virginia and Bob Franklin gave a poolside dinner party for son Jeffrey's 10th birthday. One of the gifts was a miniature golf set—and, you guessed it, that kept the group entertained for the whole evening.

The Tanager Unit is losing one of its members, Edy Hartsough, whose husband has been transferred to Washington D. C. Edy was honored recently with a dessert-bridge party at the home of Peg Majka. Those chatting about the new home which Ery will move into included Betty Rose and her mother, Leota Neal, Jane Bartleaa, Marty Gillespie, Bertie Eberhart, Emily Abbott, Marge Starkman, Jane Brobeck, Betty Jo Coffee, and Jeannette Fayram.

The latter, Jeannette Fayram, took her three children, David, Ricky and Margaret on a camping outing to Felton in the Santa Cruz Mountains. They enjoyed a cabin with Grace Hanks and her son, Steve. What did they do the three days they were there? "EAT" is the answer according to Jeannette.

Eileen and Bill McLaren and their daughters, Eileen and Charlene, are motoring to Seattle where they'll visit Bill's family and then go across to Yellowstone Park for a few days. Beverly and Norman Watson and their sons, Monte and Mark, will be spending a week at Tahoe and while they are there hope to have a visit with the Charles Rodiers when they come to the Lake to re-claim daughter Daphne who has been visiting with friends there.

And what kind of flies did she use?

Incidentally, on a recent camping weekend at Carmel, Daphne made her sportsman father that proud by catching her limit of trout. Those touring Rodiers spent a weekend at Twain Harte with the George Monheits of Walnut Creek recently. The sociable Towhees are planning one of their "fun" husband and wife evenings in August. More about that later.

That wonderful couple, Dan and Bernice (they gave their all for the Scouts) Condit certainly should be in the news. First of all, for the last nine months, they have been hosts to likable Peter Gerlicher, an exchange student from Germany. Peter has been studying at Acalanes and has become a part of the Condit family. He left by train on the 12th and will be visiting relatives in Salt Lake City and Chicago and then will go on to Washington D. C. and then to Headquarters in Maryland, then home.

During his last few weeks here, Peter joined Dan, Bernice, and their son, Phil, on a wonderfully educational trip. Several of the places visited were Grand Canyon, Zion National Park, Monument Valley, Arches National Monument, Bryce National Park, Cedar Brakes National Monument and Boulder Dam.

They also toured through Navajo country. Quite some memories for young Peter to take to Germany—yes?

And how is YOUR vacation coming along? See you.

MERRITT MANN will star in the cowboy role of "Bus Stop" tonight at Lafayette Town Hall. The Dramateurs production will be on the boards for four action packed performances. Mann is a teacher at San Ramon High School in English and Stage Craft.

Shriners Plan Breakfast at Ranch, Sunday

A chuckwagon breakfast will be held by the Contra Costa Shrine Club on Sunday. Members of the nobility in the area, their families and friends were invited to join the fun at Turtle Rock Ranch which is located on the slopes of Mount Diablo.

Festivities will start at 10 a.m. and breakfast at 11 a.m. Swimming fellowship and other activities will follow. Reservations for any part of the day must be obtained in advance. Additional information is available from Ernest J. Dreyer of Danville or Frank Y. Kupper in Walnut Creek.

DIESEL FUEL. More than 174 million barrels of diesel fuel were sold in 1955. Railroads were the biggest users, consuming 46 per cent or 80 million barrels.

Knight Signs Agricultural Zoning Bill

A bill authored by Senator George Miller Jr. to "require assessors to consider no factors other than those relative to agricultural use, when such land is zoned and used exclusively for these purposes" has been commended by the California Farm Bureau Federation.

Louis Rozzoni, president of the federation, hailed the bill as the "climax of a long campaign by Farm Bureau to protect the rights of farmers by taxing their farm land as farm land and not as suburban land."

THE LAW, SENATE BILL 1637, will enable agricultural land—even inside a city—to be assessed agriculturally as long as the land is used for farming purposes.

Rozzoni said that Governor Knight has placed a "firmer foundation" under California farming by signing the bill last week.

In a letter to the governor urging the bill's approval Rozzoni had stated: "The practice of assessing agricultural lands on the basis of market values reflecting potential use of another nature, rather than on the basis of current use, is inequitable."

"THIS IS particularly true where the property is zoned for agricultural use. The resulting land squeeze has forced many efficient farmers out of business," Rozzoni said.

NOISES NOT PERMANENT

Even in a car seven or eight years old some astonishing results are achievable with respect to noise elimination. Give the car to a mechanic for an hour or two and let him try his hand at removing those annoying noises. The owner is bound to be surprised and pleased at the return on so small an investment.

Women Voters Hold Luncheon, Discuss Affairs

The League of Women Voters held its July meeting Wednesday at Pepper Tree Farm, the home of Mrs. John Irving, 1200 North Gate Road, on the north slope of Mt. Diablo.

The occasion was a luncheon starting at 1, followed by an informal discussion on national and state continuing responsibilities, with reference to league positions and current actions.

Swimming concluded the afternoon. It was anticipated 50 members and guests enjoyed the summer meeting, said Mrs. John Selley, president.

Mrs. E. C. Litsinger of Pleasant Hill, who has been responsible for much of the preparation for this meeting, read the afternoon discussion.

She was assisted by Mesdames Dean Yeaman, John Holt and V. L. Guthrie of Concord.

Mesdames Frank Lanning, Gilbert Mead, James Bock, and Andrew Kridl of Pleasant Hill.

MRS. MONROE Smith of Walnut Creek; Mesdames Manfred Lindner; Owen Nelson of Danville; Mesdames Davis Harvell, George Pickner, Robert Abramson of Lafayette.

Mesdames A. N. Hartonov, Ernest Spiegel, W. A. Stanitis, Eugenia Pratt of Orinda.

Mrs. Robert Moore of Walnut Creek is in charge of the luncheon assisted by Mesdames David Doyle and John McConnell of Walnut Creek; Mrs. Robert Stevens of Pleasant Hill, Mrs. John Hunt of Lafayette and Mrs. Stanley Utter of Concord.

Courteous driving is safe driving.

"7 minutes in the cab...saves my wife hours of housework"

S.P. Locomotive Engineer, Joe DiSalvo of San Jose, earns enough in 7 minutes to provide his family with 24 hours of gas and electricity

"Never realized gas and electricity were so cheap till I figured it out this way," says Mr. DiSalvo. "Just 7 minutes' pay takes care of 24 hours of heat and lights and gives Mrs. DiSalvo the use of 34 gas and electric appliances."

You can afford to let gas and electricity do more of your housework. For even though the cost of living has doubled in the last 20 years, P. G. & E. charges about 1/3 less for a unit of gas and electricity than it did in 1936. (See chart)
